OD WORLD SUMMIT 2010
Dialogue & Action

OD WORLD SUMMIT credo

There's something going on out there. There's something emerging. We all know it. We all feel it. By now we know that we can't live our lives on this Planet the way we used to. Individually and collectively we started to feel the convergence.

Millions of us are already active. Thousands of initiatives are taking off every day.

As the breakthrough is yet to come – We need to join forces.

Members of our professional community – all of us working on building, nurturing and developing systems, organizations and communities – play an important role in this process. Our contribution is significant both globally and locally.

As subjects and facilitators of change, learning and human development – We can make a difference.

Co-creating a New World of Organizations & Communities

A global gathering that truly connects

Cross-cultural dialogue and networking across hemispheres and paradigms

Engaging deeply across differences and finding the "pattern that connects"

An extraordinary opportunity to work together on our collective professional future
